International Advanced Faculty Development Program on Research Methods and Methodologies for Qualitative, Quantitative and Mixed Methods of Research Design

(FDP-MRD 2023)

Course Work Certificate

This is to certify that Chavan Govindrao Eknathrai Assistant Professor, Atma Malik Institute of Technology & Research has successfully completed “International Advanced Faculty Development Program on Research Methods and Methodologies for Qualitative, Quantitative and Mixed Methods of Research Design” Organized by: Eudoxia Research Centre and Eudoxia Research University - USA with the following topics and credit points as mentioned in the table.

Date: 04th December (Monday) to 14th December (Thursday), 2023

SL/NO	Course Title	Topic	Credit
1	Fundamentals of Qualitative Research Design	Qualitative research is an exploratory approach to research that aims to understand the experiences, perspectives, and meanings of individuals or groups. It is often used in social sciences, psychology, and anthropology.	2
2	Qualitative Data Analysis and Interpretation	Qualitative data analysis involves interpreting data that is non-numerical in nature, such as interview transcripts, field notes, and audio recordings. It is an iterative process that involves examining the data for patterns, themes, and relationships.	2
3	Basics of Quantitative Research Design	Quantitative research is a research approach that involves the use of numerical data and statistical analysis to investigate relationships between variables. It is often used in fields such as economics, psychology, and political science.	2
4	Quantitative Data Analysis and Application of SPSS	Data analysis in quantitative research involves the use of statistical techniques to analyze numerical data. This can include descriptive statistics, such as means and standard deviations, as well as inferential statistics, such as t-tests and ANOVA.	2
5	Research Manuscript Drafting and Publication Process	Effective manuscript drafting involves careful planning and organization of the manuscript, including developing a clear research question, conducting a thorough literature review, and outlining the structure of the manuscript.	2

SL/NO	Course Title	Topic	Credit
1	Fundamentals of Qualitative Research Design	Qualitative research is an exploratory approach to research that aims to understand the experiences, perspectives, and meanings of individuals or groups. It is often used in social sciences, psychology, and anthropology.	2
2	Qualitative Data Analysis and Interpretation	Qualitative data analysis involves interpreting data that is non-numerical in nature, such as interview transcripts, field notes, and audio recordings. It is an iterative process that involves examining the data for patterns, themes, and relationships.	2
3	Basics of Quantitative Research Design	Quantitative research is a research approach that involves the use of numerical data and statistical analysis to investigate relationships between variables. It is often used in fields such as economics, psychology, and political science.	2
4	Quantitative Data Analysis and Application of SPSS	Data analysis in quantitative research involves the use of statistical techniques to analyze numerical data. This can include descriptive statistics, such as means and standard deviations, as well as inferential statistics, such as t-tests and ANOVA.	2
5	Research Manuscript Drafting and Publication Process	Effective manuscript drafting involves careful planning and organization of the manuscript, including developing a clear research question, conducting a thorough literature review, and outlining the structure of the manuscript.	2

ACAD-DI-59	One Page Activity Report	Academic Year: 2023-24
Rev : 00		Semester: EVEN
Date: 11-7-2022

- Faculty Name – Prof. Rupali S. Gaikwad. (Program Coordinator)
- Date – 19th April 2024.
- Planned Activity - Expert Lecture on “Communication Skill” by Mr. Sayad Wali Ahmad.
- Permission from Authorities – Dr. D. D. Shinde (Principal AMRIT)
- Implementation – Implementing communication skills involves a multifaceted approach to ensure effective and meaningful interactions. At its core, active listening is crucial; it requires giving full attention to the speaker, demonstrating engagement through body language, and confirming understanding by reflecting and asking clarifying questions. Clear and concise messaging further enhances communication; as articulating thoughts directly and staying focused on the topic helps prevent misunderstandings. Non-verbal cues, such as appropriate eye contact and tone of voice, complement verbal communication by reinforcing or adjusting the intended message. Incorporating empathy and emotional intelligence allows for better understanding of others’ perspectives and validation of their emotions, fostering a more supportive dialogue.
- Issues – No
- Conclusion- In conclusion, mastering communication skills is essential for fostering meaningful and productive interactions across all areas of life. By combining active listening, clear and concise messaging, and effective non-verbal cues, individuals can ensure their messages are understood and received as intended. Incorporating empathy and emotional intelligence enhances relational dynamics, while adaptability and openness to feedback promote continuous improvement.
- Completion Report – Expert Lecture Successfully Conducted on 19th April 2024.

REPORT ON EXPERT LECTURE ON "COMMUNICATION SKILL" HELD ON 19TH APRIL 2024

Department of Mechanical Engineering, AMRIT, Aghai conducted Expert Lecture on "Communication Skill" on 19th April 2024, Friday from Session I- 10:00 am to 12:00 pm & Session II- 03:00 pm -04:30 pm by Mr. Sayad Wali Ahmad for Teaching Staff.

Communication Skill is the cornerstone of effective interaction, essential for personal and professional success. It encompasses the ability to convey information clearly, listen actively, and engage meaningfully with others. Effective communication involves not just the articulation of thoughts and ideas, but also understanding and responding to the needs and perspectives of others. This skill is vital in various contexts—whether in everyday conversations, professional environments, or public speaking engagements. Mastering communication skills allows individuals to build strong relationships, resolve conflicts, collaborate effectively, and present their ideas persuasively. By combining verbal and non-verbal techniques with emotional intelligence and active listening, individuals can enhance their ability to connect with others and achieve their desired outcomes.

Communication Skill refers to the ability to convey information effectively and clearly, both in writing and verbally. It encompasses a range of techniques and practices that help ensure messages are understood as intended. Key components of strong communication skills include:

Department of Mechanical Engineering

1. Active Listening: Fully focusing on the speaker, providing feedback, and clarifying points to ensure accurate understanding.
2. Clarity and Conciseness: Articulating thoughts in a straightforward manner without unnecessary complexity, making the message easy to grasp.
3. Non-Verbal Communication: Using body language, facial expressions, and tone of voice to reinforce or complement verbal messages.
4. Empathy and Emotional Intelligence: Recognizing and understanding others' emotions and perspectives, which helps build rapport and navigate interpersonal interactions effectively.
5. Feedback and Adaptability: Being open to receiving constructive feedback and adjusting communication styles based on the context and audience.
6. Effective Questioning: Asking the right questions to gather information, clarify doubts, and engage in meaningful discussions.
7. Conflict Resolution: Addressing disagreements or misunderstandings constructively to find mutually acceptable solutions.
8. Professionalism in Written Communication: Ensuring that written messages, such as emails and reports, are well-organized, free of errors, and appropriately formal.
9. Practice and Self-Reflection: Regularly evaluating and refining communication skills to improve effectiveness and adapt to different situations.

Strong communication skills are crucial for successful personal relationships, effective teamwork, and professional advancement. They facilitate clearer exchanges, foster better understanding, and contribute to overall productivity and harmony in various settings.

The methods of communication skill involve a range of techniques and strategies designed to enhance how effectively and efficiently information is exchanged. Here are key methods to consider:

1. Verbal Communication:

Clarity: Use precise language and avoid jargon to ensure your message is easily understood.

Tone and Pitch: Adjust your tone and pitch to convey the appropriate emotion or emphasis, matching the context of the conversation.

Articulation: Speak clearly and at a moderate pace to avoid misunderstandings.

2. Non-Verbal Communication:

Body Language: Use gestures, facial expressions, and posture to reinforce your verbal message and convey openness or attentiveness.

Eye Contact: Maintain appropriate eye contact to show confidence and engage with your audience.

Proxemics: Be mindful of personal space and physical proximity, adjusting based on cultural norms and the nature of the interaction.

3. Active Listening:

Reflective Listening: Paraphrase or summarize what the speaker has said to confirm understanding and show that you are engaged.

Non-Verbal Cues: Use nods, verbal acknowledgments, and attentive posture to signal that you are listening.

Avoid Interrupting: Let the speaker finish their thoughts before responding, and avoid jumping in with your own ideas prematurely.

4. Written Communication:

Structure and Organization: Use clear headings, bullet points, and a logical flow to make written documents easy to read and understand.

Grammar and Spelling: Ensure accuracy in grammar, spelling, and punctuation to maintain professionalism and avoid confusion.

Conciseness: Be brief and to the point, avoiding unnecessary detail that may dilute the main message.

5. Feedback:

Constructive Feedback: Provide specific, actionable, and respectful feedback aimed at helping others improve their performance or behavior.

Requesting Feedback: Actively seek feedback on your own communication skills to identify areas for improvement and make necessary adjustments.

6. Presentation Skills:

Engaging Delivery: Use visual aids, storytelling, and interactive elements to captivate and hold the audience's attention.

Practice and Rehearsal: Prepare thoroughly for presentations to ensure confidence and smooth delivery.

In conclusion, mastering communication skills is essential for fostering meaningful and productive interactions across all areas of life. By combining active listening, clear and concise messaging, and effective non-verbal cues, individuals can ensure their messages are understood and received as intended. Incorporating empathy and emotional intelligence enhances relational dynamics, while adaptability and openness to feedback promote continuous improvement. Effective questioning and conflict resolution strategies further facilitate constructive dialogues, and professionalism in written communication reinforces clarity and precision. Ultimately, a commitment to practicing and reflecting on these skills not only enhances personal and professional relationships but also contributes to overall success and well-being. Embracing these principles leads to more effective communication, fostering collaboration, understanding, and positive outcomes in diverse contexts..

Report on Two-Day Training Programme on "Management by Objectives"

The Atma Malik Training Center (ATC) organized a two-day training programme on "Management by Objectives" (MBO) for all the teaching and non-teaching staff of Atma Malik Dhyanpeeth campus, Aghai, Shahapur on the 9th and 10th of June 2024.

The programme commenced with an inauguration ceremony led by the Executive President (EP), Shri Umeshji Jadhav, who performed the lighting of the lamp and pratima puja of Sadguru. The event was graced by several esteemed guests, including the key speaker Mr. Sayed Wali, Education Officer; Dr. D. D. Shinde, SSC Board School Principal; Mr. Kailas Thorat, CBSE School Board Principal; Mr. Anil Patil, Manager General; Mr. Gulab Hire, Manager HR; Mr. Madhav Munde; Dr. S. D. Chandgude; and Vice-Principal Mr. Govind Chavan.

Day 1: Sessions and Presentations

Mr. Kailas Thorat provided an overview of the two-day training programme, highlighting the significance of MBO for both teaching and non-teaching staff. The EP, Shri Umeshji Jadhav, then offered insights into the ATMA MALIK family, tracing its journey from its inception in 2008 to its current status. He emphasized the importance of meditation and detailed the organizational structure of SANT PARIVAR and their societal contributions.

Mr. Sayed Wali, the key speaker, began his session by explaining the key steps, benefits, and challenges of MBO to the participants. He elaborated on how this systematic approach aids individual and organizational growth. Post-lunch, Mr. Wali shared practical examples and outcomes of MBO implementation in various organizations, using engaging video clips to clarify MBO concepts.

The second day began with Mr. Wali's recap of the first day's MBO information. This was followed by presentations from teaching faculty members of AMRIT, SSC Board School, and CBSE School Board, who discussed departmental and individual objectives for the current academic year. Mr. Wali provided detailed feedback and guidance to enhance the objectives presented.

Dr. D. D. Shinde presided over a session and presented on admissions in the schools, engineering college, and polytechnic, urging all to support and take efforts to increase admissions.

Mr. Pankaj Badgujar presented the 7C's concept, motivating participants to adhere to these principles. Due to time constraints, Dr. S. B. Chandgude delivered a brief presentation on "Six Japanese Techniques to Overcome Laziness."

Finally, Mr. Sakat provided an overview of the hostel facilities and addressed maintenance issues faced by the hostel staff.

ACAD-DI-59	One Page Activity Report	Academic Year: 2023-24
Rev : 00		Semester: EVEN
Date: 11-7-2022

- Faculty Name – Prof. Rupali S. Gaikwad. (Program Coordinator)
- Date – 03rd April 2024.
- Planned Activity - Expert Lecture on “Soft Skill & Personality Development” by Mr. Sayad Wali Ahmad.
- Permission from Authorities – Dr. D. D. Shinde (Principal AMRIT)
- Implementation – Personality development involves a multifaceted approach to shaping and enhancing an individual's character and interpersonal skills. This process can be implemented through a combination of self-awareness, continuous learning, and practical experience. First, self-awareness is crucial; individuals must reflect on their strengths, weaknesses, and values to understand their current personality traits. Next, setting specific goals for personal growth helps direct efforts and measure progress. Engaging in diverse learning opportunities, such as reading, workshops, or mentorship, broadens perspectives and fosters emotional intelligence. Additionally, practical experience, including stepping out of one's comfort zone and facing challenges, builds resilience and adaptability. Regular self-assessment and feedback from others further refine and solidify personality development. By integrating these strategies, individuals can cultivate a well-rounded and authentic personality that enhances both personal fulfillment and professional success.
- Issues – No
- Conclusion- In conclusion, personality development is a dynamic and ongoing journey that requires commitment to self-improvement and openness to growth. By engaging in self-reflection, setting clear objectives, seeking diverse learning experiences, and embracing practical challenges, individuals can foster a more nuanced and resilient character. The process not only enhances personal well-being but also enriches relationships and professional interactions, leading to a more fulfilling and balanced life. Ultimately, investing in personality development is an investment in one's overall potential, paving the way for greater self-confidence, empathy, and success across various aspects of life.
- Completion Report – Expert Lecture Successfully Conducted on 03rd April 2024.

REPORT ON EXPERT LECTURE ON "SOFT SKILL & PERSONALITY DEVELOPMENT" HELD ON 04TH APRIL 2024

Department of Mechanical Engineering, AMRIT, Aghai conducted Expert Lecture on "Soft Skill & Personality Development" on 04th April 2024, Thursday at 10:00 am to 12:00 pm by Mr. Sayad Wali Ahmad for Teaching Staff.

Personality development is a vital process that encompasses the evolution of an individual's character, behavior, and interpersonal skills. It involves cultivating a well-rounded sense of self through self-awareness, emotional intelligence, and effective communication. This journey is not limited to superficial traits but delves into deeper aspects of one's values, beliefs, and motivations. Effective personality development can lead to enhanced self-confidence, improved relationships, and greater professional success. By actively engaging in personal growth activities, such as setting goals, seeking feedback, and embracing new experiences, individuals can shape their personalities in ways that align with their aspirations and values. Understanding and investing in personality development empowers individuals to navigate life's challenges more adeptly and achieve a more balanced and fulfilling life.

Personality development is the process of improving and refining one's character, behavior, and interpersonal skills to achieve personal and professional growth. It encompasses a broad range of aspects, including self-awareness, emotional intelligence, communication skills, and social interactions. The goal is to cultivate a well-rounded and authentic personality that enhances personal fulfillment and success in various areas of life.

Key components of personality development include:

Self-Awareness: Understanding one's strengths, weaknesses, values, and motivations is foundational to personal growth. Self-awareness allows individuals to identify areas for improvement and set meaningful goals.

Emotional Intelligence: Developing the ability to recognize, understand, and manage one's own emotions, as well as empathize with others, is crucial for effective communication and relationship-building.

Communication Skills: Effective verbal and non-verbal communication enhances interactions with others, facilitates better understanding, and fosters stronger relationships.

Continuous Learning: Engaging in lifelong learning, whether through formal education, reading, or experiential learning, broadens perspectives and contributes to personal development.

Practical Experience: Facing and overcoming challenges, stepping out of one's comfort zone, and taking on new responsibilities help build resilience and adaptability.

Feedback and Reflection: Regularly seeking feedback from others and reflecting on one's experiences contribute to ongoing personal growth and self-improvement.

Overall, personality development is a continuous and dynamic process that requires dedication and self-reflection. By focusing on these key areas, individuals can cultivate a personality that aligns with their aspirations and values, leading to a more balanced, fulfilling, and successful life.

In conclusion, personality development is a dynamic and ongoing journey that requires commitment to self-improvement and openness to growth. By engaging in self-reflection, setting clear objectives, seeking diverse learning experiences, and embracing practical challenges, individuals can foster a more nuanced and resilient character.
